

Questions on All about Colon Cancer

{mosloadposition advert1}

What is colon cancer? This deadly disease has killed millions of people in the United States and in Western countries. Though 73% of the cases are cured by surgery and chemotherapy, colon cancer is still one of the leading killer diseases in these countries. Along side with AIDS, cardiovascular illness, and brain tumors, colon cancer takes part as the fatal illness for people.

{mosloadposition advert2}

There are researches done to know all about colon cancer. Some of these researches have succeeded on concluding the main questions on all about colon cancer. These questions are including how a person could be a host of colon cancer, what are the symptoms of this illness, and how to prevent it. {mosloadposition advert3}

The researches try to answer the questions on all about colon cancer. One theory says that a person can be host of colon cancer due to the unhealthy diet which contains a lot of fat and synthetic preservatives. You also can get it from inheritance, because gen plays very important role on cancer. The symptoms of colon cancer are a continuously stomachache, diarrhea, constipation, and pain. Meanwhile, this answer all about colon cancer says that people must eat less fat and more fiber to prevent colon cancer.