

All about Colon Cancer as Deadly Disease

{mosloadposition advert1}

One of the most deadly cancers is colon cancer, or also known as colorectal cancer. Colon cancer is a deadly disease that has killed millions of people all around the world. It is as harmful as heart disease, HIV/AIDS, malaria, hepatitis, breast cancer, and cervix cancer.

{mosloadposition advert2}

However, not anyone knows all about colon cancer due to the fact that hosting colon cancer doesn't affect one's social status like HIV/AIDS does. Colon cancer is getting infamous because human's diet pattern now is affected by synthetic preservatives and seasonings that can harm the digesting system. This unhealthy diet increase the number of colon cancer patients in the hospitals. {mosloadposition advert3}

However, this theory does not answer the questions on all about colon cancer. Some of the patients say that they have eaten healthy diets and reduce chemical preservatives. Some people that want to help answering the questions about all about colon cancer say that the food ingredients are contaminated since from the farms. It doesn't do any good to reduce chemical preservatives in cooking if you still consume spinach that are grown by synthetic manure and chicken that eats chemical pellets. One answer on all about colon cancer is to fix the whole food industry into better a system.